Horton.

HORTON ARMS. DERBYSHIRE. A stag's head cabossed, silver; attired, gold; and for distinction a canton ermine. Crest, out of the waves of the sea proper, a tilting spear erect, gold, enfiled with a dolphin, silver, finned, gold, and charged with a shell.

(Cabossed means cut off short so as not to show the neck; attired denotes the horns; canton ermine means the black spots upon the white field in the left hand corner. In the picture the artist has not given the shell upon the dolphin.)

MOTTO.—"QUOD VULT, VALDE VULT."—What he wills, he wills cordially and without stint.

Arms are hereditary, but the mottoes are not, and may be changed to suit the taste or fancy of any family. There are other Arms of the Horton family, varying somewhat from the above. The date of the grant of the arms is unknown—probably many centuries ago.

THE HORTON NAME.

From Dr. George F. Horton's Book, 1876.

The word Horton, in the Anglo-Saxon language, means an enclosure, or garden of vegetables, derived from ort, meaning plant and tun, enclosed. The name is evidently of Latin origin and has been known in England ever since the conquest of Caesar.

WILLIAM HORTON, Esq., descendant of one Robert De Horton, who died in 1310, married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Hanson, Esq., of Toothill, died about 1640.

Children:

WILLIAM, born about 1576.

— JOSEPH, born about 1578.

It is held that Joseph settled in Mowsley, Leicestershire, England, and was father of Barnabas Horton.

The first of the Horton family known to have emigrated to this country were Thomas, Jeremiah and Barnabas, who came from England, 1633 to '38; they are supposed to have been brothers; Thomas came over in the "Mary and John," in 1633, and settled in Springfield, Mass. Jeremiah also settled in Mass.

BARNABAS HORTON, son of Joseph Horton, born at Mowsley, Leicestershire, England, in 1600; died at Southold, Long Island, July 13, 1680. His wife Mary survived him. He emigrated to America in the ship "Swallow," Captain Jeremy Horton, master and owner, prior to 1640, and settled at Hampton, New Hampshire. As early as 1651 he with his family removed to Southold, and resided there until his death. He held many public offices and was one of the prominent men of Southold.

JOSEPH HORTON, eldest son of Barnabas Horton, born in England about 1625; died before June 12, 1696; married Jane Budd, daughter of Lieut. John Budd; Joseph owned property in Southold in 1653. In 1665 he removed from there to Rye, Westchester Co., N. Y., which was at that time included in the Connecticut Colony. In 1667 he was appointed lieutenant and held several important offices in Rye.

DAVID HORTON, fourth son of Joseph Horton and Jane Budd, born in Rye, N. Y., 1664; married Esther King in 1688.

It is supposed THOMAS HORTON, the second son of David Horton and Esther King, born about 1690; married Hannah Garnzey at Rehoboth, Mass., June 7, 1710.

THOMAS HORTON, probably the son of Thomas Horton and Hannah Garnzey, married Hannah Wheaton of Swanzey, at Rehoboth, Mass., by the Rev. David Turner, Aug. 12, 1743.

I have not been able to establish positively a direct line of descent from Barnabas Horton. However, as we know Thomas came from Rehoboth, Mass., to New Lebanon in 1773, and as after a careful personal search of the original records of Vital Statistics at Rehoboth, I find the names and dates of the two generations last above mentioned as I have written, it is very probable this is correct.

From Thomas of New Lebanon down the generations I have been at great trouble in some instances to obtain the exact dates and full records, and no doubt there are many errors in dates, though I have been very careful to record them as given to me; the greater part of my correspondents, however, have been willing and ready to render all assistance, and to them I extend my heartfelt thanks.

A. J. H.

Each one of Thomas's children is represented by a separate division. The numbers in the margin being assigned each birth for convenience only; the * denoting there are additional records of that person in the next generation following, under the same number.

FIRST GENERATION.

— THOMAS HORTON, probably the son of Thomas Horton and Hannah Wheaton, born in Rehoboth, Mass., June 6, 1745; died in town of New Lebanon, Columbia County, N. Y., April 6, 1825; married Hannah Hix at Rehoboth, Mass., May 31, 1767, by Elder John Hix, who was probably Hannah Hix's father. She died at New Lebanon, N. Y., Jan. 15, 1804.

Children: Hix and Jacob were born at Rehoboth, Mass.; all others in town of New Lebanon, N. Y.

1* 1 HIX, born June 6, 1768; died at Owego, N. Y., 1839.

2* 2 JACOB, born Nov. 5, 1770; died Apr. 3, 1849.

3* 3 ANNA, born Aug. 25, 1773.

4* 4 DAVID, born Oct. 1, 1776; died July 2, 1846.

5* 5 JUDETH, born Nov. 17, 1777.

6* 6 NATHAN, born Sep. 30, 1782; died July 8, 1827.

— 7* 7 THOMAS, born Sep. 12, 1784; died Jan. 18, 1852.

8* 8 HANNAH, born June 18, 1788; died May 15, 1871.

He married 2nd, Esther Haskell; no dates can be found but the date of her death, which was March 25, 1840, aged 75 yrs. 8 mos., 26 days.

In 1773, he, with his wife Hannah, and their two children Hix and Jacob, moved from Rehoboth, Mass., to New Lebanon, Columbia County, N. Y., and purchased some land, built a house and made there their home. Not long after he responded to his country's call to arms for service in the Revolutionary War, and enlisted in Company Eight, Seventeenth Regiment, Albany County Militia, serving first as private, then sergeant. Afterwards, returning to his home, he in time acquired many acres of land and considerable property as is shown by his will, a copy of which follows:

WILL.

In the name of God, Amen; I, Thomas Horton do make publish and declare this my last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say,

First, I give and devise unto my son Jacob Horton his heirs and assign the farm on which he now lives lying in the town of New Lebanon, County of Columbia, and State of New York so as the same is now used, occupied and enjoyed by him—

Second, I give and devise unto my son David Horton the farm on which he now lives, lying in the town of New Lebanon, aforesaid, so as the same is now used, occupied and enjoyed by him excepting the wood on two acres of the land on the north side of the farm and the growth of the same—hereinafter devised to my sons Nathan and Thomas) and commonly called the Cash farm, to have and to hold the same to him and his heirs and assigus forever—

Third, I give and devise unto my son Nathan Horton and Lois his wife the farm on which they now live (situate in New Lebanon aforesaid) lying wholly on the East side of the road leading to Stephentown (excepting the use of the garden, one half of the dwelling and a privilege in the loom house hereinafter reserved to my wife) To have and to hold the same to them during their natural lives and the life of the survivor of them and after their decease I give the same to the children of my son Nathan if he shall leave any, and their heirs forever; But if my son Nathan shall die without issue living at the time of his decease, then and in that case I give and devise the one equal undivided half part of the said farm to my grand son Jacob Horton Junior his heirs and assigns forever; and the other half part of said farm, I give and devise unto my grand children David J. Horton and Nathan Horton Junior and their heirs to be equally divided between them;

I also give unto my son Nathan and Lois his wife, the wood (with the growth thereof) standing on one acre of the wood lot given to my son

David in this my will, and lying on the north side of his farm adjoining the lands of Griggs and Hatch, with the privilege of ingress and egress at all times to cut and carry away the same;

Also I give unto my son Nathan and Lois his wife and to the survivor of them the privilege of watering their stock, cattle &c. at the brook in the pasture on the west side of the barn (on the land hereinafter devised to my son Thomas) during the cold weather, together with the use of one third of the barn and barn yard on the west side of the road and hereinafter given to my son Thomas Horton;

I also give and bequeath my horse and colt to my son Nathan Horton together with the use of my mare until the colt is three years old (if he should not be of that age at the time of my decease) and after the said colt is three years old, I give and bequeath my mare to my son Thomas Horton Jun;

Also I give and bequeath to my son Nathan Horton after the death of my wife, my stove and stove pipe;

I give and devise unto my son Thomas Horton Jun. all my land lying west of the road leading to Stephentown and not herin before devised to my sons David and Jacob (reserving to my son Nathan the right to use one third of the barn and barn yards on the premises and the privilege of watering his cattle at the brook as herein before mentioned—and also excepting and reserving the same privileges hereinafter given to my wife Esther) to have and to hold the same to my said son Thomas Horton Junior, his heirs and assigns forever;

Also I give unto my son Thomas Horton Junior the wood and the growth thereof now standing on one acre of the wood lot on the farm hereinbefore devised to my son David, lying on the north side of the farm & joining the lands of Griggs & Hatch, with the right of ingress and egress at all times to cut and carry away the same.

I give, devise and bequeath unto my beloved wife Esther the use of the one third of all my real estate (excepting therefrom the dwelling houses, buildings and gardens now occupied and standing on the lands devised to my sons David, Jacob & Thomas, no part of which do I hereby intend for her use except such as is hereinafter particularly mentioned) The north half of the house in which I now live—with the garden attached to the same—a right in the loom room, & the use of the oven in the south part of the house, and the use of the stove and pipe in the room I now occupy, to use, occupy, hold and enjoy, all and singular the said land, privileges and property so long as she shall remain my widow;

I also give and bequeath unto my aforesaid wife One feather bed with a full and complete set of bed clothes & bedding for the same—all which are to be selected by her, my best cow, four of my best sheep, five chairs including those she had before her marriage, all the furniture she had at the time of her marriage that now remains, also the one half of all the cloth, bed clothes & bedding made by her since her marriage with me, excepting nine sheets;

I also give to my said wife Esther all the grain & provision that I may leave at my decease, I give her also my Bible, I also give her the right and privilege of watering her stock and cattle at the brook in the pasture west of the barn on the west side of the road on the land devised to my son Thomas.

The above gifts, devise and bequests to my wife Esther, I hereby declare intended for and are given in lieu of all and all manner of dower that she might be entitled to out of my estate.

I give and devise unto my son Hicks Horton, and my daughters Anna, Judy & Hannah the piece or lot of land called the Yale lot lying south of the road leading to Spencer Carr's & east of the road leading to New Lebanon meeting house, to have and to hold the same to them and their heirs as tenants in common;

I give to my son Hicks Horton a large and ancient book, being a treatise on different arts & sciences.

I give and bequeath unto my daughter Hannah the bed she sleeps on (in my house) with the bedding belonging to the same.

I give and bequeath my clothes and wearing apparel to my sons to be equally divided between them—and the clothing & apparel of my wife I give to her.

I give and bequeath unto my three daughters, Anna, Judy & Hannah all my cattle, sheep, household furniture—cloth, beds & bedding not herein otherwise disposed of.

All the rest, residue and remainder of my personal estate after paying my debts and funeral charges I give to my children to be equally divided between them.

Lastly I constitute and appoint my son Jacob Horton, Executor of this my last will and testament; In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this twenty eighth day of March 1825

THOMAS HORTON

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the above named Thomas Horton to be his last will and testament in the presence of us, who in the presence of the testator & of each other have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses.

The words "with the growth thereof" "& their heirs" also the word "all" interlined before signing and witnessing.

He was prominent in athletics there; was Capt. of Co. B, Capt. of the academy football team and member of the boat crew. From this school he entered the State University of Wisconsin in class of '07. He was a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. At the close of his university career Mr. Week entered the office of the John Week Lumber Co. and became junior member of the firm and in 1910 was elected vice-president. Owing to poor health he is now in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

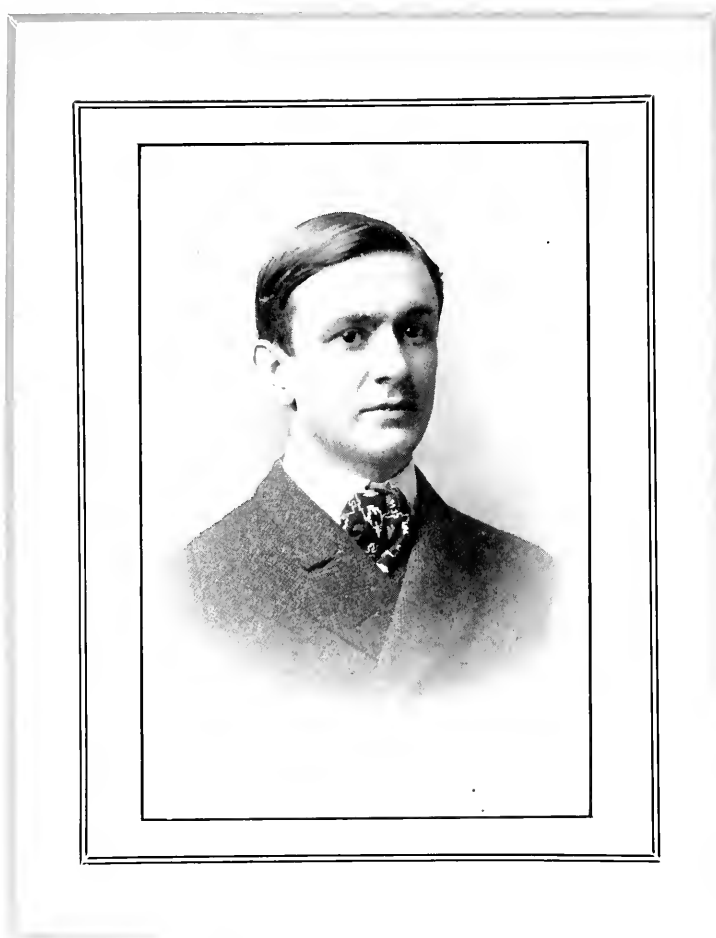

- 50        3 ALBERT NELSON, born at Stevens Point July 19, 1894; died Mar. 16, 1896.
- 51        3 ELMER J., born at Sharon, Portage Co., Wis., June 1, 1862; married Ella McGown July 4, 1887. His early manhood days were spent on a farm and sawmill in Portage Co. After attaining his majority he worked in the lumber woods and on the river, driving logs for a time, then attended Spencerian Business College at Milwaukee one year, when he returned to sawmill work in home town. Here he served one term as town treasurer and one term assessor. In 1899 he moved to Chelsea, Wis., and was employed in sawmill there. In 1906 Mr. Youmans moved to Westboro, Wis., and entered the employ of the Westboro Lumber Co. as filer, which position he has retained to the present time. Children:

MARION B., daughter of Sylvester Jotham Horton and Emily Strong, born at Burton, Mar. 18, 1832; died at Hadley, Ill., Feb. 14, 1895; married Abel R. Burdick at Allegany, Apr. 3, 1856; son of Abel Burdick and Lucy Hadsell; born at Alfred, N. Y., Apr. 22, 1831; died at Hadley, Ill., Feb. 9, 1895.

Abel R. Burdick received a common school education, and directly after marriage they went to Hadley, Pike Co., Ill., and settled on a 40-acre tract of timbered land, built a log house and commenced to clear the land. In Aug., 1861, Mr. Burdick responded to his country's call to arms by enlisting in Company K, 99th Illinois State Volunteers, and served to the close of the war, participating with his regiment in many hard-fought battles; was under Grant before Vicksburg and various other engagements and came through all without an injury. After the war was over he returned to Hadley and followed the occupation of farming to time of his death. He accumulated property and added considerable more land. Three of his children now occupy and work the farm.

Children born at Hadley, Ill.:

LOUISA J., daughter of Sylvester Jotham Horton and Emily Strong, born at Allegany, N. Y., June 3, 1842; married Wallace Sweeten at Allegany May 5, 1868; son of Elijah Sweeten and Caroline Whitney; born at Hinsdale, N. Y., Apr. 26, 1841.

At the age of 20 Wallace Sweeten enlisted from Allegany, N. Y., for 2 years May 15, 1861, in Company H, 37th Regiment N. Y. S. Vol. He served his time and more, returned home and went to Oil City, Pa. For one year worked at the coopers' trade and boating oil, then enlisted in the U. S. Navy Sep. 4, 1864, and was stationed on the vessel "Pontoosuc" and served to the close of the war.

He participated in the Siege of Yorktown, at Williamsburg, Fair Oaks, Mechanicsville, Gaines Mills, Savage Station, Frayser Farm, Malvern Hill, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Aquia Creek, Chantilly Church, Fort Fisher and before Richmond. Mr. Sweeten was one of the number who volunteered to land from the fleet of gunboats to storm Fort Fisher, where they found the 20-foot ditch filled with water and many were killed by the heavy fire from rebel cannon. Through all he escaped without injury and after close of the war returned to Allegany, purchased a timbered tract there, lumbered and cleared the land. In 1878 he, with his brother, built and operated a grocery store and bakery in Allegany several years.

In 1882 he with his family moved to South Dakota and he took up a homestead; also a pre-emption and tree claim of 160 acres each in the township of Cornwall, Sink Co., in that state. About 1905 Mr. Sweeten purchased 7 acres near Hitehcock, S. D., where he built a house and now resides.

It has been said by some that John Horton and brother, Truman, left their home in New Lebanon for Erie Co. in spring of 1816. Others have stated an earlier date. In any event, we find on the records of the Holland Land Company that on Oct.

18, 1815, John Horton purchased from them 100 acres on West Hill for \$375.00, making a payment thereon of \$19.00; being N. W. part of Lot 48. This purchase was probably for both John and Truman, and was later exchanged with the land company for land  $\frac{1}{4}$  mile east and other side of the road, where they made their homes. In the fall of 1816 they returned to New Lebanon, walking the entire distance—about 400 miles. The next spring they went back to Boston and continued the clearing of their land; each built a small log house and sowed to wheat the land they had cleared, and in the fall again returned to New Lebanon, undertaking to walk as before, but being in poor condition as a result of overwork and lack of proper food were obliged to take the stage part of the distance. Soon after arrival they made preparations to move their goods to Boston with their families, having been married the winter before. Each made a sled and purchased a yoke of oxen and early in the year 1818 they loaded their sleds with goods and provisions and with their wives and one infant but a few weeks old started for their future homes.

Before they reached Erie County one of their oxen died. They traded his mate and one of the sleds for a horse, loaded all of the goods on the other sled, hitched the horse ahead of the remaining yoke of oxen and proceeded on their way, arriving at their destination without farther mishap other than the loss of a feather bed, which fell off the load unnoticed after leaving the village of Buffalo.

The season being a hard one they suffered much for want of nourishing food. As soon as the wheat they had sown the fall before was in the milk they picked the kernels and ate them with milk.

The next fall Truman had the misfortune to lose his house by fire. It was in the month of November, and all their household goods were burned, the only article saved being an iron candlestick that was on the window sill. When the relatives in New Lebanon learned of their loss they sent them clothing and other articles and his father sent $40.00 in money.

After this both families suffered greatly for the necessities of life. Truman was obliged to go barefoot all of one summer, and at one time John's family subsisted entirely on potatoes and salt for six weeks, and about that time he loaded 30 bushels of oats on his sled and with his ox team took them to Buffalo and exchanged them for one barrel of salt; taking three days for the trip.

After about 15 years they were in fairly good circumstances; good buildings, and farms nearly, or quite paid for; both families being large they needed more land but could not at that time purchase land adjoining, so decided one should own both farms and bid to decide which one; John bid the highest, and Truman sold him his land, reserving the house, he purchasing 150 acres about one-half mile west, and about one year later, after clearing some land, moved the house to it. They put runners under the house and the neighbors came with their oxen and hitched a long string of them to each corner of the front end, and in that manner moved it to its place.

In the next 15 years Truman had cleared 125 acres, bought 50 acres adjoining, had 35 cows, a flock of sheep and plenty of barn room.

In the year 1838 John's wife died leaving him with eleven children, the youngest being but a few weeks old. He engaged temporarily, Rachel Lord—a widow with six small children which she was obliged to bring with her—one boy and five girls. From the first she seemed to take as much interest in the care of his children as her own, and in a few months they were married. At that time they had 17 children; 16 of them being under the paternal roof. He had plenty of work for them that were old enough. Had 300 acres of land, as he had purchased all lying between his and Truman's. Had a dairy of 70 cows. The work was all done by the family. It required about 150 tons of hay to feed the stock during the winter, which was all cut with scythes and raked with hand rakes, there being no machines at that time. The cheese was made for many years by his son Edwin, and at one time he with the help of his father made two large ones; one weighing 220 pounds and the other 240 pounds; they were pressed in a large tub with a beam under the cheese house, and were sold in Buffalo to Hugh Webster at 8 cents per pound.

The two first winters after John and Rachel's marriage, they sent 15 children to the district school. Later more children came, and for a short time 19 children were fed at his table every day, requiring a barrel of flour every two weeks. In time two of his boys married two of her girls.

John and Truman were highly respected by their neighbors and were members of the Baptist church for many years and to the time of their death; Truman living on the farm that he had cleared nearly all the balance of his life. John sold his farm to three of his boys and bought a small farm at foot of the hill one mile west, built house and barns, but after a few years, being dissatisfied with church privileges there, sold, and purchased a farm in the town of Eden, Erie Co., where he passed the remainder of his life.

THOMAS HIX, son of Jacob Horton and Annis Gillet, born in town of New Lebanon, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1805; died at Stephentown, N. Y., Dec. 3, 1892; married Elizabeth Sanford at Sand Lake, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1830; daughter of Brownell Sanford and Rachel Bennett; born at Sand Lake, N. Y., Aug. 21, 1804; died at Stephentown June 24, 1888.

Children, born in New Lebanon, but Howard Jacob:

- 72* 1 HEMAN BROWNELL, born Oct. 9, 1831; died Sep. 21, 1890.
- 73* 2 FRANCIS ALBERT, born Jan. 10, 1834; died Feb. 27, 1904.
- 74* 3 HOWARD JACOB, born at Howard, Steuben Co., N. Y., Aug. 30, 1836; died June 1, 1876.
- 75 4 HARRIET MARTHA, born July 6, 1838; died Feb. 26, 1839.
- 76* 5 EMILY AMANDA, born Sep. 5, 1840.
- 77 6 LAURA IMOGENE, born June 24, 1843; died July 24, 1897.
- 78* 7 JOHN THOMAS, born Oct. 11, 1845.

Thomas Hix Horton was born on "West Hill" at the old Horton homestead, acquired his education in the district schoolhouse a little north of the Horton home. This schoolhouse is now standing; many religious services and other public gatherings have been held there. He learned the carpenter trade which he followed many years in the vicinity, often walking as far as seven miles in time to begin work at daylight. In 1829 he walked to Boston, Erie Co., where two of his brothers were then living, worked there about a year and returned in the same manner. Soon after arrival at Lebanon was married and they started housekeeping on what was known as the Dolph farm.

In spring of 1834 he with his family moved to town of Howard, Steuben Co., N. Y., via packet on Erie Canal the greater part of the distance. He purchased land there and engaged in farming to some extent besides working at his trade. An early frost there combined with a generous offer of some land by his father induced him to return to the Dolph farm, where he remained about 15 years, when he bought a farm in Stephentown and engaged in the culture of vegetables and herbs. He united with the church at Lebanon in early manhood; was leader of the choir; had a sweet tenor voice and was fond of singing even in his advanced age. On removing to Stephentown he united with the Baptist church there and later transferred his membership to the Lebanon Springs church.

- 86 8 JOHN J., born Aug. 11, 1846; died in infancy.
- 87* 9 HEMAN, born Sep. 16, 1848.

Joseph went to Michigan and located his future home. Returning for his family they, in 1833 or 1834 set out for their Western home, via Erie Canal to Buffalo, thence by boat on Lake Erie to Detroit, and he purchased a farm in Wayne Co. near some of his old neighbors from the East, who had preceded him to Michigan and settled there. But the low land did not suit him and after two years he sold out and went to Farmington township where other of his Eastern neighbors had settled some time previously. To this place they traveled with a wagon and ox team, by way of Birmingham and Franklin, being two weeks on the road; soon afterward purchasing the farm one mile west of what later became the village of Farmington, where he lived until his death.

The farm he purchased had been little improved. He worked at his trade as a carpenter and hired some of the land cleared, when so working. There are many old buildings now standing in the neighborhood which he erected, and are as monuments of his industry and enterprise.

It was said of him that "he was as quick as a squirrel to work on the scaffold." He was a very active man. His neighbor who was not a very early riser was wont to say that "as he rose from his knees after prayers the next word was out in the field saying to his ox, 'come under, buck.' "

He always set an example to all alike of earnestness and uprightness and was honored by every one, holding official relations in the church as long as he lived.

Sweet; born in town of Sardinia, Erie Co., N. Y., Feb. 28, 1827; died at Sherman, N. Y., Nov. 18, 1878.

Child:

105* FRANCIS, born at Sherman.

After their marriage Alphonso and his wife attended the academy at Abbotts Corners, N. Y., then moved to Sherman, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., where he took charge of the Baptist Church as minister, which was continued about ten years and to time of his death. His widow married Joel Cornish, and they had one son and four daughters: Judson, Rachel, Julia, Nellie and Ida.

42

MERCY ANN, daughter of John Horton and Mercy Carr, born in town of Boston, Erie Co., N. Y., June 17, 1819; died in town of North Collins, N. Y., Jan. 2, 1892; married Almon Perkins July 4, 1836; son of Zenas Perkins and Sally Whaley; born at Granville, Washington Co., N. Y., Apr. 7, 1810; died in Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 14, 1883.

Almon Perkins and his wife commenced housekeeping in a shanty erected on her father's land in Boston, N. Y., where he had taken the contract of clearing up some land, and later moved to a house in the town of Concord nearby; then moved to location near Fowlerville, in same town and in the vicinity of the sawmill where her brother Henry was killed by accident; then to the farm in town of Concord where they lived many years.

Children, born in town of Concord:

106 i GEORGE W., born Mar. 28, 1840; died Apr. 30, 1850.

107 ii DE WITT C., born July 30, 1843; died May 29, 1869; married Ellen Bailey. Not long after marriage he had inflammatory rheumatism and was a great sufferer many months until his death.

108 iii EUGENE A., born May 12, 1845; died Aug. 21, 1907; married Esther M. Davis Mar. 4, 1867. From boyhood, Eugene A. greatly enjoyed singing. He was a chorister of the "Hill" Sunday School from date of its organization, and sang at many funerals. His vocation was farming and resided many years on his farm in town of North Collins, where he died. Children:

109 1 WARD H., born Aug. 21, 1870; died Apr. 9, 1880.

110 2 CLARA E., born Sep. 22, 1873; died June 8, 1883.

111 3 IRA A., born Sep. 23, 1875; married Ethel M. Barth at Angola, N. Y., Dec. 29, 1903. He is a farmer by occupation and resides on the Langford road, east of North Collins.

118* 2 IRVING M., born in Boston, N. Y., July 16, 1850; died Sep. 2, 1877.

119 3 ARTHUR B., born in Boston, Oct. 19, 1859; died Oct. 1, 1878.

William R. was a farmer by occupation. He purchased 46 acres in the town of Concord, Erie Co., from the Holland Land Company by contract dated Nov. 1, 1841, obtaining deed Jan. 23, 1844. His childhood and early married life was spent on Horton Hill; later he with his family moved to a farm he purchased near Springville where he lived until his death. He was a prominent member and deacon in the Baptist church at Boston and a Sunday School worker and superintendent there. After moving to Springville he kept up his church work and engaged heartily in the cause of prohibition, and it was due largely to his efforts that that village "went dry" for the first time.

chased a sawmill in the Boston Valley above Boston Corners, and while operating this mill together, a large log rolled over Henry, injuring him so severely he lived but a few hours. Later, Jacob purchased a farm on Horton Hill directly across the road from the old homestead and made cheese there several years, then rented a large dairy farm in the town of North Collins, Erie Co., and there made cheese. He afterwards engaged in manufacturing cheese in factories at Boston, East Concord and Prattsburgh, Erie Co. Then purchased the factory at Boston Corners, and soon after with brother Edwin and son-in-law Levi Farnsworth, organized a company under the title of J. V. Horton & Co., built, purchased and operated factories in towns of Boston, Eden, Concord, Hamburg and East Hamburg. At one time they owned and operated 13 factories in Erie Co.

Gowdy at Mansfield, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., July 2, 1848; daughter of Ethan Lord and Rachel Sweet; born in town of Sardinia, Erie Co., N. Y., Feb. 21, 1830; died at Eden Valley, N. Y., Oct. 27, 1897.

Children:

- 123* 1 AUSTIN JAY, born in town of Boston, N. Y., Sep. 5, 1849.
- 124* 2 HOWARD MONTGOMERY, born in town of Boston, June 24, 1854.
- 125* 3 EDITH ADELE, born in town of Collins, N. Y., Apr. 24, 1868.
- 126 4 ANGELO, born in town of Collins, Nov. 4, 1871; died in infancy.

He married 2nd, Lorena Sloane at Elma, N. Y., Nov. 28, 1898; widow of Asahel Sloane and daughter of Ethan Lord and Rachel Sweet; born in town of Concord, N. Y., Feb. 13, 1836.

Edwin A. was born on West Hill, later known as Horton Hill, about two miles west of Boston Corners, in the little log house built by his father. This house was heated from a stone fireplace. Two or three of the boys together would haul in a big backlog for the fire. His first attendance at school was in the old log school-house also heated from a stone fireplace. The benches were made from basswood slabs mounted on four legs. His education was finished in a frame schoolhouse built later across the road and where his eldest son Austin first attended school. While a young man he made cheese for his father at the homestead. Soon after he was married he purchased 50 acres covered with timber on the hill one mile west of Boston Corners; they lived for a few months in a log house across the road, with the Widow Chase, while he cleared some land and built a small frame house into which they moved in the spring of 1849. He continued making cheese for his father and after a time finding his title to the farm faulty, received money back he had paid, and lost cost of improvements. He then built a house on his father's farm, continued making cheese for his father and afterward for his brother William who rented the homestead. Later he with two brothers—William and Lorenzo—purchased the homestead and he moved his house on the 96 acres he purchased.

Nov. 25, 1857, Edwin and Louisa held Thanksgiving here with three of her sisters. This Thanksgiving reunion has been held at the home of some one of the four sisters, and later of some one of their children every year since that time.

1859 was the year of the two big frosts, June 4 and 11, and he sold his farm and rented a large dairy farm in North Collins.

In June, 1863, news came that his brother Ira was dangerously wounded before Port Hudson. A council of the family and Ira's wife decided on Edwin to get Ira home if possible and he set out at once via Atlantic Ocean to New Orleans, as the land route was blockaded by the rebels. He arrived at Baton Rouge, twelve hours after Ira died and was not able to bring the body home. In 1865 he rented a larger dairy farm in the town of Collins and planted ten acres of hops. Afterwards purchased 50 acres in town of North Collins and one year later engaged in his old business of making cheese, this time in a factory; first for, and later as part owner in the J. V. Horton & Co. combination of cheese factories. After being in this business eleven years he purchased a home at Eden Valley, N. Y., and engaged quite extensively in the poultry business and was mail carrier there many years and until he died, being struck by a passenger engine and instantly killed.

ANNIS ALVIRA, daughter of John Horton and Mercy Carr, born in town of Boston, Oct. 15, 1828; died in town of Sardinia, Erie Co., Jan. 9, 1902; married Sterling Titus at Hamburg, N. - 139 7 CHASE, born in Arcade, N. Y., June 28, 1873; died at Arcade July 3, 1877.

A farmer during his early life, L. L. Horton became interested in making cheese, first in an individual factory and later in a number of factories under one control. In company with Messrs.

H. W. Richardson and William Johnson he organized the first of the large cheese factory combines in Western New York. Afterwards he acted as cheese buyer for various New York City exporters.

In March, 1874, Mr. Horton with his family moved from the farm on Horton Hill to the village of Holland, N. Y., and in Dec. of same year to Arcade, N. Y., which was his residence until his death.

For many years he was active in church work, being a member of the Baptist denomination. He was always an ardent worker in the temperance cause, and took an active interest in elections, ever striving for the election of honest men. Mr. Horton was possessed of a fine tenor voice and often sang at concerts and entertainments.

Nathan J. was reared on a farm near the place of his birth and received a common school education; taught school the winter of 1861-62. August 5, 1862, he enlisted in Company F, 116th Regiment, N. Y. State Infantry and served to the close of the war. One year and one-half of his enlistment was spent in the Gulf Department, where he participated in the siege and surrender of Port Hudson, battle of Donaldsonville and in the Red River campaign, in which several engagements took place, noticeably the battles of Pleasant Hill, Sabine Cross Roads and Cane River. In the summer of 1864 the regiment to which he belonged was returned to Washington, D. C., attached to Sheridan's command and was with it in the Shenandoah Valley campaign. He was slightly wounded in the battle of Winchester Sep. 19, 1864, and severely wounded in the battle of Fishers Hill Sep. 22, 1864, which prevented him from further active service.

The activities of the campaign compelled him to remain for nearly two months in a tent used for a field hospital; during this time through lack of necessary care and attention the wound became somewhat malignant and very serious. In Nov. following he was removed to a hospital at York, Pa., where improved conditions, more skillful care and closer attention, made it possible for him in January to be transferred to the General Hospital at

- 212* 5 ARTHUR D., born at Busti, N. Y., June 20, 1875.

Almon A. was born and reared on a farm on West Hill (Horton's Hill) about two miles west of Boston Corners and had limited opportunities of attending the district school. He had 14 lessons in Latin and 12 in Greek from the Rev. Mr. James, a Baptist minister at Boston Corners; studied German while teaching school near Clarksburg, N. Y., having a native German for instructor, and in 1856 obtained rudiments of Hebrew language from a German-speaking Jew; with these exceptions his education was self acquired.

His parents being Baptists he had always attended Baptist Church and Sunday School, but became a member of the M. E. Church in 1852.

In Sep., 1855, he received license to exhort and was sent to Kinzua, Pa., as Junior helper. In 1856 taught school at East Otto, N. Y., and the following May married Victoria Harris, a successful school teacher of Tuna Creek (now Bradford), Pa. In June of the same year at Leon quarterly conference he was recommended for membership in Erie annual conference of M. E. Church. That being full he went to Wisconsin and was employed as supply at Heustisford. In May, 1858, he was received into the Wisconsin conference and preached at Liberty Prairie, Princeton, Sun Prairie, Lamartine, Chilton, Brotherstone and Indian Mission. Had typhoid fever and was unable to preach for one year but taught school at Cherry Creek, N. Y., to which place he had moved. In July he commenced to preach at Ellington and Cherry Creek, continuing to teach school at the latter place. In July, 1865, joined the Erie conference and preached at Cattaraugus and Perrysburg, N. Y., Kinzua, Sugar Grove and Columbus, Pa.; Busti, East Randolph and Ellington, N. Y.; Sheffield, Waterford, Girard, Erie and Wattsburg, Pa., and Jamestown, N.

Y., at Brooklyn Heights M. E. Church 11 consecutive years when in fall of 1910 owing to failing health of his wife and self he was compelled to resign. The following February he was afflicted with a severe stroke of paralysis from which he has not fully recovered.

Rev. Horton has served as minister 54 years with nearly 2,000 received into the church, and has married about 500 couples.

- 216* 4 HERBERT ADDISON, born at Greenbush, N. Y., Mar. 21, 1867.

Soon after marriage Heman and wife lived near the home of his father while he completed his medical education at Berkshire Medical College in Pittsfield, Mass., from which institution he graduated with honor in Nov., 1858; and about one and one-half years later with family moved to Eden, Erie Co., N. Y., and established a practice of his profession which became very successful in this and other places. During his residence in Eden Dr. Horton was appointed surgeon by the United States Christian Commission and sent to Alexandria, Va., in that capacity. Soon after leaving Eden he became an ardent advocate of the homeopathic school of medicine and practiced for a time at Poestenkill and North Greenbush, N. Y., then became resident physician at the Albany Homeopathic Dispensary.

Owing to the ill health of one of his children he thought advisable to leave the city and purchased the practice of an old physician at Kinderhook, N. Y., and established there a lucrative practice. In 1871 he moved to Huntington, Long Island, where he practiced medicine until his death.

Dr. Horton was eminently successful as practitioner and diagnostician.

137

ELMER GRANT, son of Lorenzo L. Horton and Phila Chase, born in town of Concord, May 22, 1868; married Belle Fisher at Crawfordsville, Ind., Sep. 4, 1894; daughter of William J. Fisher and Louisa C. Montgomery; born at Whitesville, Ind., Oct. 19, 1867.

Children:

304 1 VIVIAN F., born at Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10, 1897.

305 2 MILDRED M., born at Columbus, O., Dec. 7, 1900.

His early education was obtained in Arcade, N. Y., and he graduated from the academy there in 1887 at the head of his class. Within the month following he took a competitive examination and received a scholarship entitling him to free tuition for four years at Cornell University, at Ithaca, N. Y. He entered Cornell in the fall of same year and completed the freshman year with honors and then taught school for a year to replenish his finances, then resumed his course at Cornell and graduated from that institution in June, 1892, with the degree of Bachelor of Science. During the years of 1891 and 1892 he taught in the summer schools of Cornell University. Mr. Horton was Teacher of Sciences in the Detroit, Mich., School for Boys (College Preparatory) from Sep., 1892, to Feb., 1893; when he resigned to accept the Professorship of Hygiene and Physical Culture at Wabash College, Ind., which position was resigned in 1895 to accept the Thomas Scott Fellowship in Hygiene at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Pa. Before the Fellowship year was completed, the appointment was received as Instructor in Bacteriology at the same university.

In June, 1898, this university position was resigned in order to accept the position of Bacteriologist and Chemist to the Ohio State Board of Health and to establish a State Laboratory for that Board.

In 1902 Mr. Horton accepted the Professorship of Hygiene in Ohio Medical University, Columbus, O., and retained the position when Starling Medical College joined with Ohio Medical to form Starling Ohio Medical College. While teaching and in charge of the State Laboratory he completed his medical work commenced at University of Pennsylvania and graduated from Ohio Medical University in 1906 with the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

In January, 1907, he was elected Health Officer of the City of Columbus, and accordingly resigned with the State Board of Health after a service of over nine years. Since that date Dr. Horton has devoted his professional energies to teaching and to a large and lucrative practice. He has been active in scientific, sanitary, and medical circles, especially in the following: Cornell University, Natural History Society, American Public Health Association, Tuberculosis Societies, American Chemical Society, Columbus Academy of Medicine, Ohio State Medical Society, American Medical Association. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias and of the medical A. M. P. O. of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, the North Side Chamber of Commerce and the North Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Elmer G. played base ball on his class teams at college and on the Crawfordsville Y. M. C. A. team, which was credited as being the best amateur in Indiana. In football an enviable name was obtained as a player on class teams and as end, and later halfback, on the Varsity at Cornell. He was never retired from a game for exhaustion or injury during his football career. He played full-back and was captain of the Detroit Athletic Club team when they won the city championship in 1892. As evidence of his success in individual athletic contests, Dr. Horton has a large collection of cups and medals which he prizes highly. When at Cornell he held five records, viz.: 120-yard hurdles, pole vault, standing high jump, and running broad jump, and 220-yard hurdles.

Besides numerous prizes won in these events at different meets he won prizes in the running high jump and the sprints. Young Horton had the honor of being the first Cornell athlete to win a prize at the annual spring meet of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association in New York City. In his junior year he won the coveted gold medal as the best all around athlete in Cornell University, in which contest he stood second in his sophomore year.

Elmer Horton became a Christian when in college and from the time of his conversion has thrown his heart and soul into the work of the church, Sunday School and young people's work. With the exception of organist, chorister and treasurer, he has held every official church position from janitor up, having filled the pulpit on numerous occasions.

At present Dr. Horton is a member of the official board of the North Methodist Church and a teacher of a large class of young ladies.

In addition to his practice, Dr. Horton is Professor of Hygiene and Preventive Medicine at Starling Ohio Medical College, Chief of the Dispensary Staff at Park Street Dispensary and Visiting Physician at Protestant Hospital.

V—JUDETH.

SECOND GENERATION.

JUDETH, daughter of Thomas Horton and Hannah Hix, born in town of New Lebanon, Columbia Co., N. Y., Nov. 17, 1777; married Elisha Wood.

No record of the date of their marriage can be found, neither can the dates of birth of all their children be obtained.

Sep. 26, 1825, they signed a deed giving their address as town of Locke, Cayuga Co., N. Y. Where dates are not given I have arranged the order of their births as best I could. It is highly probable that Anna was the firstborn. From some of the branches I have obtained names but found it impossible to get dates; from others I can get nothing. Wherever dates are given they are as reported to me and probably correct. A. J. H.
